As part of its mandate to support its members as they increase their competitiveness and reduce their environmental footprint, the AIAC, along with CAE and Ecosystem, invites you to a webinar entitled The Hidden Opportunities in Your Buildings.

The conference will cover the options faced by C-level executives and facilities/plant managers when addressing asset renewal and maintenance issues in their buildings, looking at ways to transform a capital expense into an investment by leveraging energy savings and maximizing financial incentives.

David Héon, Manager, Facility Services / Health, Safety, and Environment, for the CAE Montreal plant and headquarters, will talk you through his own experience of an extensive project that won the 2016 Leadership Award from CIPEC (Canadian Industry Program for Energy Conservation), Natural Resources Canada, in the category "Process and Technology Improvement Award".

The webinar will cover:

- A quick overview of the project implemented at CAE
- Ways to best define the scope of a successful infrastructure improvement project
- How to obtain buy-in from the executive board
- How to implement the project and get the most value from your contractors

David Héon will be joined by Antoine Courchesne-Tardif, Project Director at Ecosystem, the firm that was chosen to design and implement the project.
