

Eric Lefebvre, Director of Business & Strategy Development for NRC Aerospace

Eric Lefebvre is a Director of Business & Strategy Development for NRC Aerospace. Eric is also a Director of the Board of H2CANFLY and Chair of Canadian Advanced Air Mobility (CAAM). Eric joined the NRC in 2013 after spending 23 years in management positions with various high-tech companies in Canada and the US. Soon after joining the NRC, Eric was named to head the UAS Program until April 2017 where he was appointed Director. His current management role is to provide business and strategy direction on collaboration globally and development of new strategic initiatives to benefit the growth of aerospace in Canada, with special focus on ecosystem development.